FOR ALMOST 100 YEARS, THE CARLYLE has defined the art of entertaining for the world's most discerning. Beginning as a grand apartment hotel, it opened in 1930 on Manhattan's Upper East Side—a spellbinding, art deco jewel. The Carlyle has endured, alive as ever, now under the stewardship of Rosewood Hotel Group.

At The Carlyle, every detail is considered. There are sumptuous, layered suites and semi-public spaces, where magic of all kinds erupts nightly. Declared “a favorite of the famous and the fashionable,” The Carlyle has been frequented by Madonna and Elton, Bowie and Jagger; it's a regular haunt of Tom Ford, and Diana, Princess of Wales embraced it as her private retreat.

The Carlyle has always been more than its address. It's a marvelous, sizzling alchemy of people, music, dining, and interiors; a world behind closed doors. Now, for the first time, its electricity carries to another pulsing city: Dubai.

DISCRETION AND EXACTING SERVICE

A CURTAIN RISES IN DUBAI

THE CARLYLE RESIDENCES IS DUBAI'S most esteemed address, etched into the skyline of the Dubai International Financial Centre, or DIFC. As its curtain rises, residents experience unrivaled hospitality, community, and spontaneous pleasure, alongside exquisite, highly personal service.

Designed by Sir David Chipperfield, the visionary British architect.

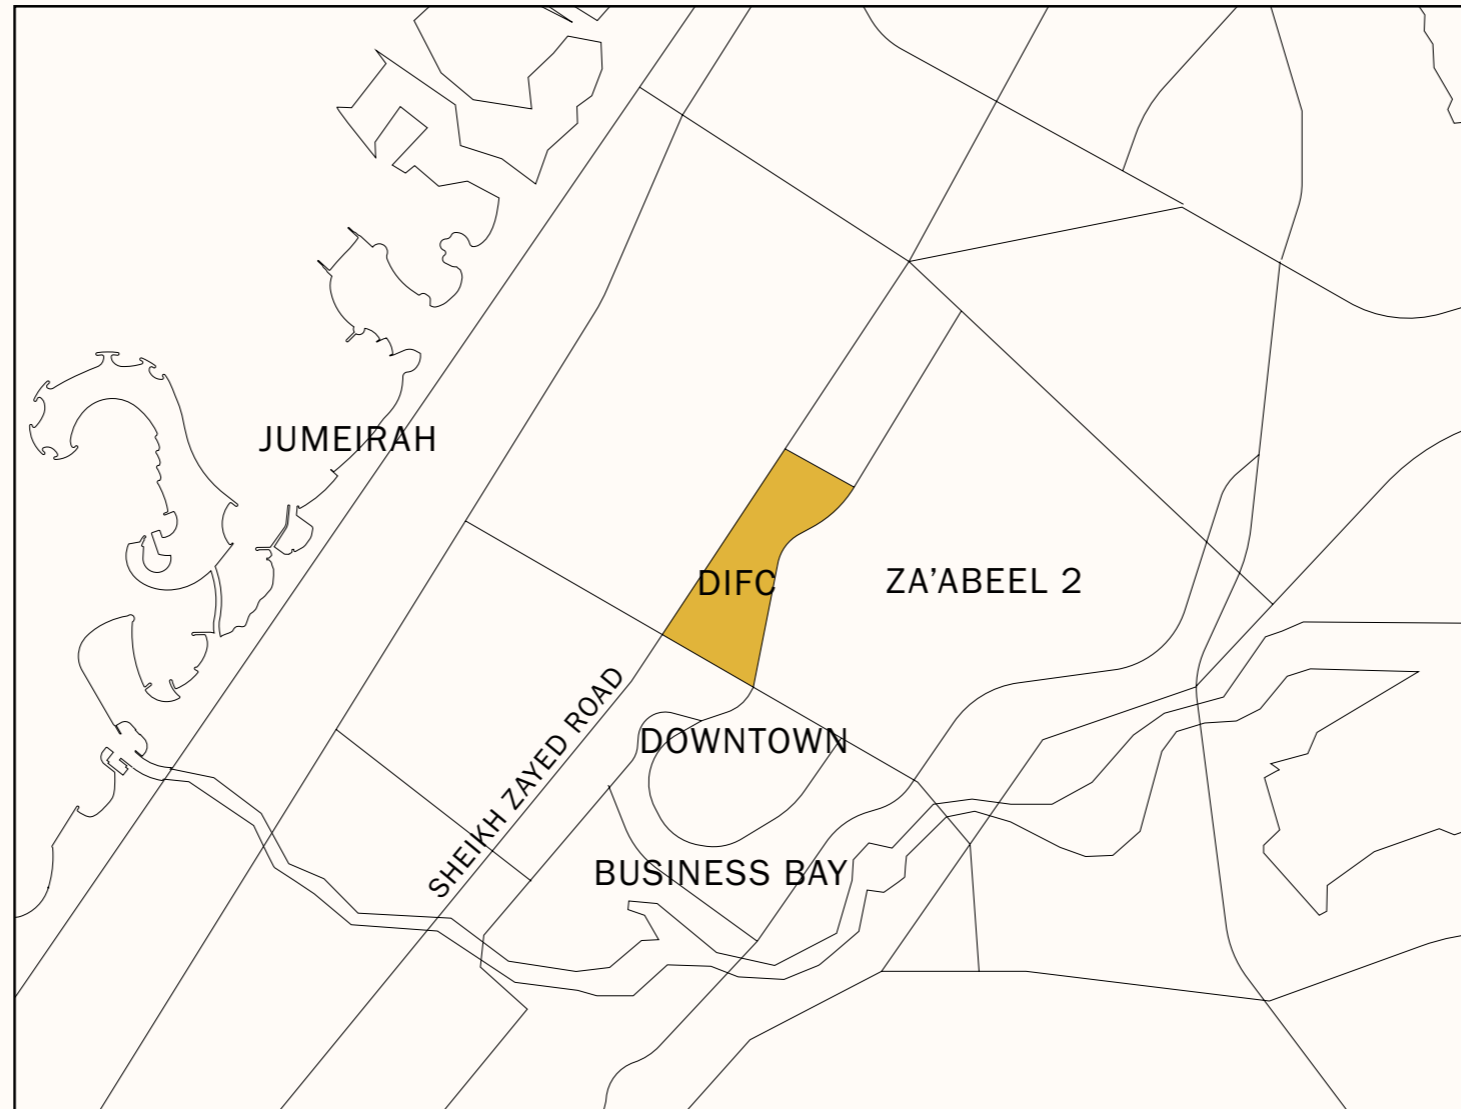

A MONUMENT TO RHYTHM AND RESTRAINT,
The Carlyle's lattice-like façade projects quiet strength.
Golden and precise, it becomes a sculpture animated by light—softly luminous under the shifting desert sun.

GROUNDING IN CULTURAL SENSITIVITY, IMAGINATION, and collaborative rigor, David Chipperfield Architects creates timeless spaces that converse openly with the world around them.

PERCHED AT THE CROSSROADS OF COMMERCE AND CULTURE, DIFC is Dubai's global stage. Here, finance, world-class cuisine, contemporary art, and elevated living flourish amid architectural splendor.

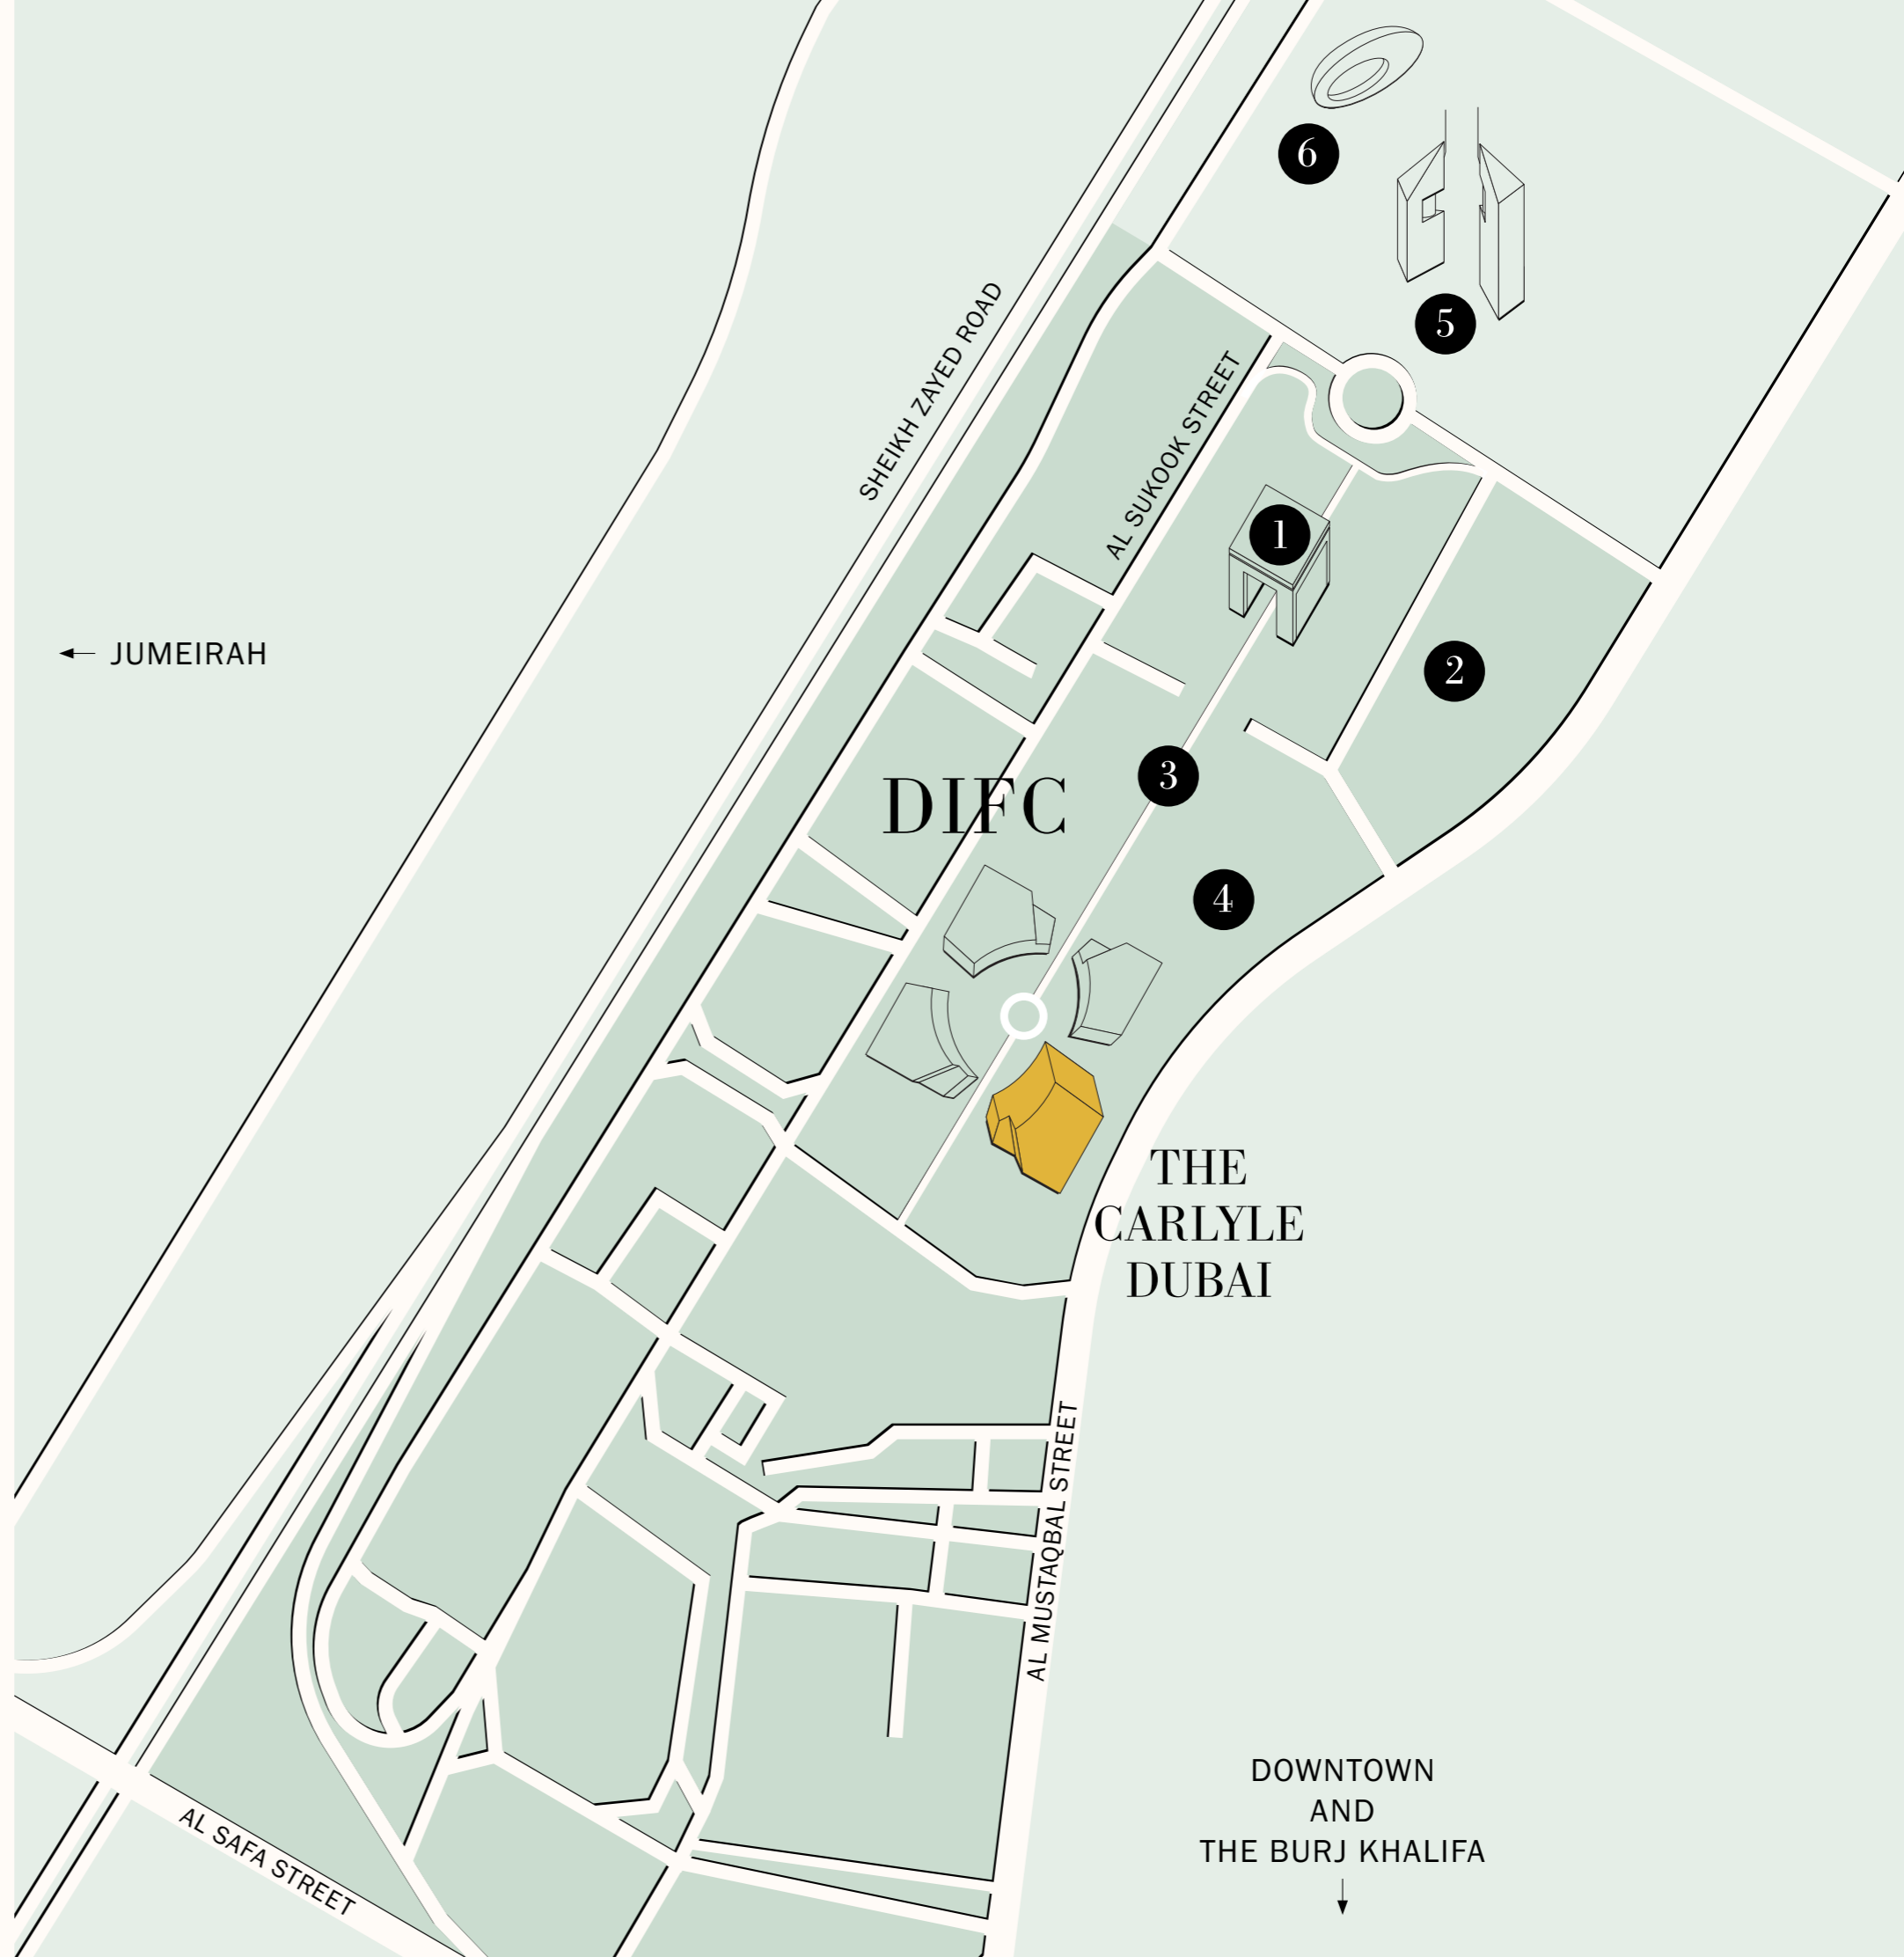

The Carlyle's central location affords immediate access to the city's other jewels—just minutes by car from the pristine shoreline of Jumeirah, or Downtown's many attractions. With Dubai International Airport nearby, it's ideal for frequent travelers.
